

Tender Title: GMO is seeking an individual, team, or firm to design and lead an external, summative final performance evaluation of the Investing in Syrian Humanitarian Action (ISHA) program as one of the main activities within the program scope and will cover the last phase of it. The final evaluation will focus on exploring the extent to which GMO achieved the program's goals and how GMO might continue to use this experience in supporting Syrian civil society and promoting localization approaches across programming. The purpose is to look at ISHA's performance in accordance with the contractual commitments and original objectives and the program's overall achievements, strengths and weaknesses. An additional purpose of the final evaluation is to capture additional learning opportunities which can contribute to the broader dialogue about empowering local actors in humanitarian responses, both in Syria and similar contexts. Key findings and recommendations of the final evaluation will be shared with ISHA's stakeholders, including Track 1 CSO partners, within GMO globally, with BHA and other key donors, and through other appropriate forums to disseminate the lessons learned to the broader donor and humanitarian response communities.

Opening date: 4 September 2024.

Closing Date: 10 September 2024, at 17:00 PM Jordan Time
